The Clery Act

Enacted in 1990, The Crime Awareness and Campus Security Act was designed to assist the campus community in making decisions which affect their personal safety by requiring institutions of higher education provide certain campus security information to current and prospective students and employees annually. The Higher Education Act of 1998 and the subsequent amendments of the implementing regulations (34 C.F.R.668.46) significantly expanded institutions' obligations under the Act. The Act was also renamed the "Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Crime Statistics Act" (hereafter the Clery Act). The Clery Act requires colleges and universities to:

- Publish an annual report every year by October 1 that contains three years of campus crimes and certain security policy statements.
- Disclose crime statistics for the campus, public areas immediately adjacent to or running through the campus and off campus buildings or property that are owned or controlled by the university and frequented by students. The statistics must be gathered from the University Police Department, Division of Student Engagement and Success, local law enforcement, and University officials (Campus Security Authorities) who have "significant responsibility for student and campus activities."
- Provide "timely warning" notices for those crimes identified by Clery Act that have occurred on campus and pose an ongoing threat to the campus community.
- Implement emergency notification procedures if there is an immediate threat to the health and safety of the campus community.
- Maintain a daily crime log available to the public.
- Maintain in a fire log a record of any fires that occurred in an on-campus student housing facility.

Annual Disclosure of Crime Statistics:

Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi provides a safe and secure campus environment for all students, faculty, staff, and guests. This information has been prepared to ensure that Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi follows the federal guidelines under the Crime Awareness and Campus Security Act of 1990. This report is prepared by the University Police Department and includes crime statistics for the previous three years that occurred on campus, at certain off-campus buildings/property and on public property adjacent to and accessible from the campus. Crime statistics are collected from the University Police Department, Student Conduct and Advocacy office and Campus Security Authorities. The University Police Department obtains information from local law enforcement agencies on crimes that occur at off campus buildings/property that are owned or controlled by the university and are frequented by students.

Notification

An email notification is sent to current students, faculty and staff providing information on how to obtain a copy of the Campus Security and Fire Report. Students and Employees can obtain a copy of the report from the University Police Department in person or via the University Police Department website. Upon request, prospective students and employees may obtain a copy of the report at the University Police Department or via the University Police Department website. The report is also accessible through the university's main website.

University Police Department Jurisdiction/Authority

The University Police Department is the sole law enforcement agency on the campus of Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi. The University Police Department officers also enforce the rules and regulations of Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi. The police officers of Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi have the same authority to detain and arrest as municipal police officers and are authorized to carry firearms. The University Police Department also employs unarmed security officers who assist the patrol division with non-law enforcement duties. The patrol jurisdiction for security officers is limited to buildings and property owned or controlled by Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi.

Patrol Operations and Investigations Division

Two of the five divisions of the Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi Police Department are: Patrol Operations and the Investigations Division. Patrol Operations is divided up into three shifts that deliver police services to the campus community. These services are provided by police officers who patrol the campus by vehicle, bike, and foot. The patrol officers are the first responders to all emergencies on campus. The Investigations Unit conducts the investigatory function of the department by conducting preliminary and follow-up investigations of crimes that have occurred on campus. The detectives assigned to the division work closely with other law enforcement agencies as well as the Nueces County District Attorney's office. All crimes that are reported to the University Police Department are investigated and referred for prosecution as appropriate. Criminal matters involving students are also referred to Student Conduct and Community Standards office.

Professional Standards

Texas A&M University- Corpus Christi Police Department is an Accredited Law Enforcement Agency from the Texas Police Chief's Association Law Enforcement Accreditation Program. Interagency Relationships

The University Police Department maintains a close working relationship with the Corpus Christi Police Department, Nueces County Sheriff's Department, Texas Department of Public Safety, and other local, state, and federal law enforcement agencies. Although at this time there is not a written agreement, the University Police Department has a mutual understanding with these agencies, that all crimes occurring on the campus of Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi will be investigated by the University Police Department officers. These agencies are available to assist the University Police Department with investigations if needed.

It is imperative that all crimes and suspicious activity be reported to the University Police Department, accurately and promptly. Police officers are available twenty-four hours a day, year-round. Crimes and emergencies can be reported to the University Police Department by any of the following means:

- Call the University Police Department from any on campus phone by dialing ext. 4444 or off campus phone by calling 361-825-4444.

For off campus crimes or emergencies, we encourage prompt reporting to the proper local law enforcement agency.

Confidential Reporting

If you are the victim of a crime and do not want to pursue action within the University system or the criminal justice system, you may still want to consider making a confidential report. With your permission, the University Police Department can file a report on the details of the incident without revealing your identity. The purpose of a confidential report is to comply with your wish to keep the matter confidential, while taking steps to ensure the future safety of yourself and others. Although exempt from the reporting requirements of the Clery Act, pastoral and professional mental health counselors are encouraged to refer persons they are counseling to report crimes on a voluntary, confidential basis especially incidents that may pose a threat to others. Reports filed in this manner are counted and included in the annual crime statistics for the institution.

Police Response

The University Police Department responds to all emergencies and investigates all reports of criminal activity that occur on campus. The University Police Department responses include but are not limited to the following:

- Investigate reports following the University Police Department procedures.
- Arrests, file charges with the appropriate courts when such action is necessary.

Campus Security Authorities

Although the University encourages the campus community to report all crimes to the University Police Department, we recognize that some individuals may prefer to report to other individuals or offices on campus and may do so by contacting any “Campus Security Authority.” “Campus Security Authorities” are defined as any university officials who have “significant responsibility for student and campus activities.” The following have been identified as “Campus Security Authorities”:

- Division of Student Engagement and Success

The function of a Campus Security Authority (CSA) is to collect crime report information. CSAs are responsible for reporting allegations of Clery Act crimes reported to them in their capacity as a CSA. The CSA is not responsible for trying to determine authoritatively when a crime took place. The CSA is not responsible for investigating allegations nor are they responsible for trying to convince the victim to contact law enforcement if they choose not to.

Crime Alerts (Timely Warning)

The circumstances in which a Crime Alert (Timely Warning) are generated include, but are not limited to, the receipt of a report to the University Police Department or other Campus Security Authority involving a crime reportable under the Clery Act that poses a serious or continuing threat to the campus community. The Chief of Police or designee is responsible for determining if a Crime Alert will be issued. Determination will be made on a case-by-case basis after considering all available facts, such as the nature of the crime, length of time between when the crime occurred and when it was reported and whether a continuing threat to the campus community exists. Crimes that fall under the Clery Act include, but are not limited to, arson, murder/non-negligent manslaughter, aggravated assault, burglary, robbery, and sex offenses. Crime Alerts will be publicized through the university email system to students, faculty, and staff, will be posted on the University Police Department website and social media and flyers may be posted throughout campus. Crime Alerts will contain sufficient information about the nature of an identified threat to assist the campus community in taking appropriate action to protect themselves or property. The Crime Alert will include:

- Description of the type of crime
- General location, date, and time the crime occurred
- Physical description of suspect(s), if available
- Suggested measures in which members of the campus community can take
- University Police case number

The University Police Department may withhold the information required above if there is clear and convincing evidence that the release of the information would jeopardize the safety of an individual or an ongoing criminal investigation, cause a suspect to flee or evade detection, or result in the destruction of evidence.

Crime Log

The University Police Department maintains an activity log of all crimes that have occurred on campus and is made available to the media, public and campus community. The log identifies the type of crime, location, time, and date that the crime was reported to the University Police Department. This log can be viewed on the University Police Department website.

Off Campus Crimes

Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi does not have any off-campus student organizations and does not monitor or track law enforcement proceedings against students involved in off campus crimes. The University Police Department only tracks crimes that occur at off campus locations required by the Clery Act.

Crime Prevention and Security Awareness Programs

The University Police Department is available to conduct many different educational presentations for the campus community. These presentations are held throughout the year during orientation, unique events, employee development day, and upon requests of classes and student organizations. Some of these programs include:

- Active Shooter Response

- Protecting Personal Property against Theft and Burglary

The University Police Department provides crime prevention tips through brochures, flyers, table tents, and on campus monitors.

The University Police Department encourages students and employees to be aware of their responsibility for their own safety and to be concerned for the safety of others.

Missing Student Notification

If a person has reason to believe that an on-campus resident student is missing, they should immediately notify the University Police Department at 361-825-4444. If a non-resident (resides off campus) student is reported missing to university personnel, the University Police Department will notify the proper law enforcement agency, within 24 hours, and assist with the investigation. The reporting party should provide at minimum the following information:

- The relationship of the concerned party to the missing student,
- How long the student has been out of contact,
- If there is a reason to believe the student might be in distress or if there is a threat of imminent harm,
- Background and descriptive information.

Should the University Police Department determine that the student has been missing for more than 24 hours, the University Police Department will notify the Division of Student Engagement and Success, Corpus Christi Police Department, and the student's emergency contact.

If the student is under 18 years of age and is not an emancipated individual, the University Police Department will notify the student's parent or legal guardian and emergency contact(s), as designated in the records of the university, immediately after determining that the student has been missing for 24 hours.

If contact is made with the student, they will be instructed to contact the concerned party. Students are encouraged to periodically review and update their emergency contact information in the student information system (S.A.I.L.) and are also given the option to opt out of the of the emergency contact notification.

All students have the option to identify an emergency contact person(s). This person will be notified, within 24 hours, if the University Police Department and/or local law enforcement determine the student is missing. This contact information will be confidential and accessible only to authorized university officials and law enforcement personnel involved in an emergency response. To designate an emergency contact person, please login to S.A.I.L. at: <http://sail.tamucc.edu/>.

Students will be notified of the procedure to designate an emergency contact person and of the missing person reporting process via their official university email account.

Emergency Response/Notification and Evacuation Procedures

On campus emergencies should be reported immediately by dialing 911 or the 361-825-4444 (UPD). In the event of an emergency involving an imminent threat on campus, the University Police Department will respond and confirm that there is a significant emergency or dangerous situation that is a threat to the health and safety of the campus community. The Chief of Police or designee will notify the President of the University or designee. The University Police Department will determine which segment or segments of the campus will be notified of the emergency and will without any delay activate the campus emergency notification system. The University Police Department will determine the content of the emergency message, taking into consideration the safety of the campus community. The University Police Department will only delay the emergency notification if the notification will compromise efforts to assist victims, contain, respond to, or otherwise mitigate the emergency. Depending on the nature of the emergency, other members of the campus Incident Command Team will be notified and will report to the Emergency Operations Center. The University Police Department will request assistance from outside law enforcement agencies and coordinate response efforts as appropriate. The Vice President for Marketing and Communications or designee will communicate with local television stations and radio stations to disseminate emergency information to the surrounding communities. During the incident, the University will utilize the campus emergency notification system to provide current information regarding the incident and what actions if any the campus community should take. Once the University Police Department has determined the threat is abated, the campus community will be notified via the emergency notification system.

Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi is committed to providing a safe environment for the campus community. In the event of an immediate threat, the University Police Department or the Public Information Officer will notify students, faculty, and staff by the following methods:

Code Blue Notification System

The University uses a third-party emergency notification system that can contact students and employees by work phone, cell phone, text message and/or email. The severity of the emergency will determine what forms of contact are used. An email alert will come from Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi Code Blue (codeblue@tamucc.edu). Phone and text messages will be sent to the number designated by the students and employees in S.A.I.L./Workday. The University will send a message twice a year reminding each user that they are in the system; in addition to a message the user receives when the number is added to the system. Faculty, Staff, and students may opt out of the text messages at any time by replying to any message with “Stop TAMU-CC” and will not receive any further emergency text notices. The University Police Department or Marketing and Communications Office will activate Code Blue; the system is assessed periodically throughout the year.

University Website, social media

Special notices will be posted on the university website tamucc.edu. Social media, including Facebook and Twitter may also inform the public as appropriate. Notifications are posted on these platforms that have language like what is crafted on email blasts to the campus community and through the Code Blue Notification System.

Campus Work Phones

A voicemail message may be sent to all campus telephones. A voicemail message may be deployed in the event of an emergency with a pre-recorded message.

Area Television Stations, Radio Stations, and the Newspaper

Corpus Christi television and radio stations and the Corpus Christi Caller-Times newspaper are supportive in helping the University inform the community regarding weather notifications and emergencies. Notifications and updates are sent with appropriate frequency to all media resources, to enable sharing of this information to their respective audiences.

Information Hotline Telephones

The University maintains two information hotlines that are recorded messages that are activated and utilized regularly during an emergency to provide information the faculty, staff, and students.

- Faculty/Staff Information Hotline: Local 825-9999 Toll Free 1-888-234-4005
- Student Information Hotline: Local 825-0000 Toll Free 1-888-234-4887

Campus Evacuation Procedures

The University President & CEO or designee will authorize campus evacuation orders. Once an evacuation order is given, students and employees should follow the instructions and timelines for leaving the campus and should alert others to do the same. Information about returning to campus will be communicated through the University web page and phone information line. Annually, the University Emergency Management Team conducts an exercise that tests, among other items, the evacuation procedures, notification systems, and recovery of the campus in the event of a campus evacuation. A description of the drill is documented, and an After-Action Report is completed and kept by the Environmental Health and Safety office.

Building Evacuation Procedures

An evacuation will occur when the fire alarm sounds and/or notification is given by the University Police Department. All persons (students, employees, and guests) are to immediately vacate the building in as safe and efficient manner as possible. All persons should follow orders given by the University Police Department officers at the scene. Personnel shall not return to an evacuated building until instructed by the University Police Department or other University officials assisting. In addition to the testing of Fire Alarms, unannounced evacuation drills are conducted each semester for on campus buildings and resident halls by the Environmental, Health and Safety office. The building evacuation is documented and reviewed by the Environmental Health and Safety office. The building evacuations at resident halls are reviewed by the Environmental Health and Safety Office and the Director of University Housing.

What is an evacuation emergency?

In most cases, evacuations apply only to buildings immediately affected. Some potential causes for emergency evacuations may include, but are not limited to:

- Active Shooter
- Major fire or explosion
- Bomb threat
- Hazardous material release
- Structural failure
- Aircraft collision with building

Severe Weather

Severe weather presents a serious threat to the safety of the campus community. In a severe weather event, it is important to follow safety procedures as well as understand terminology such as the difference between a weather watch and a weather warning.

Weather Watch

This means conditions are favorable for the type of weather specified (i.e., severe thunderstorm watch or tornado watch), and you need to monitor the weather for the latest updates.

Weather Warning

This means the type of weather specified (i.e., severe thunderstorm warning or tornado warning) is imminent or occurring and is an immediate threat. You should take immediate action to shelter and protect yourself.

Shelter In Place

In some emergency situations, such as flooding or release of hazardous materials, emergency responders may order protective actions for persons who live or work on campus. Typically, these protective actions are to evacuate to a safer area or to shelter-in-place. It is possible that some emergency scenarios could result in one of these protective actions being ordered for one part of campus and the other protective action for a different area of campus. When such actions are warranted, you will be appropriately advised by police, fire, safety, or university officials.

Shelter-in-Place Procedures

When emergency conditions do not warrant or allow evacuation, the safest method to protect individuals may be to take shelter inside a campus building and await further instructions. Seek appropriate shelter such as small interior rooms, interior hallways, or basements.

- Move indoors or remain there—avoid windows and areas with glass
- If available, take a radio or television to the room to track emergency status
- Keep telephone lines free for emergency responders. Do not call 911 for information.

If hazardous materials are involved:

- Turn off all ventilation systems and close all inlets from the outside
- Select a room(s) which is easy to seal and, if possible, has a water supply and access to restrooms
- If you smell gas or vapor, hold a wet cloth loosely over your nose and mouth and breathe through it in as normal a fashion as possible

How to be an Active Bystander

Bystanders play a critical role in prevention of sexual and relationship violence. They are "individuals who observe violence or witness the conditions that perpetuate violence. They are not directly involved but have the choice to intervene, speak up or do something about it." The university promotes a culture of community accountability where bystanders are actively engaged in the prevention of violence without causing further harm. If you or someone else is in danger, dial 911 or call the University Police 361-825-4444. Below is a list of ways you can be an active bystander:

- If you see someone that looks like they are in distress or need help, ask if they are okay.
- Confront people who isolate, hit on, try to make out with, or have sex with people who are incapacitated.
- Speak up when someone discusses plans to take sexual advantage of another person.
- Believe someone who discloses sexual assault, abusive behavior, or experience stalking.
- Refer people to on and off campus resources listed in this document.

Risk Reduction

With no intent to victim blame and recognizing that only rapists are responsible for rape, the following are some strategies to reduce one's risk of sexual assault or harassment (taken from Rape, Abuse, & Incest National Network, (www.rainn.org):

- Be aware of your surroundings. Knowing where you are and who is around you may help you to find a way to get out of a tough situation.
- Try to avoid isolated areas. It is more difficult to get help if no one is around.
- Walk with purpose. Even if you do not know where you are going, act like you do.
- Trust your instincts. If a situation or locations feels unsafe or uncomfortable, it is not the best place to be.
- Try not to load yourself down with packages or bags as this can make you appear more vulnerable.
- Make sure your cell phone is with you and charged and that you have cab money.
- Do not allow yourself to be isolated with someone you do not trust or someone you do not know.
- Avoid putting music headphone in both ears so that you can be more aware of your surroundings, especially if you are walking alone.
- When you go to social gatherings, go with a group of friends. Arrive together, check in with each other throughout the evening, and leave together. Knowing where you are and who is around you may help you to find a way out of a tough situation.
- Trust your instincts. If you feel unsafe in a situation, go with your gut. If you see something suspicious, contact law enforcement immediately.
- Do not leave your drink unattended while talking, dancing, using the restroom, or making a phone call. If you have left your drink alone, just get a new one.
- Do not accept drinks from people you do not know or trust. If you choose to accept a drink, go with the person to the bar to order it, watch it being poured, and carry it yourself. At parties, do not drink from punch bowls or other large, common open containers.
- Watch out for your friends, and vice versa. If a friend seems out of it, is way too intoxicated for the alcohol they have had or is acting out of character, get them to a safe place immediately.
- If you suspect you or a friend has been drugged, contact law enforcement immediately. Be explicit with doctors so they can give you the correct tests.
- If you need to get out of an uncomfortable or scary situation here are some things, you can try:
 - a. Remember that being in this situation is not your fault. You did not do anything wrong; it is the person who is making you uncomfortable that is to blame.
 - b. Be true to yourself. Do not feel obligated to do anything you do not want to do. "I don't want to" is always a good enough reason.

- c. Have a code word with your friends or family so that if you do not feel comfortable you can call them and communicate your discomfort without the person you are with knowing.
- d. Lie. If you do not want to hurt the person's feelings it is better to lie and make up a reason to leave than to stay and be uncomfortable, scared, or worse.
- Try to think of an escape route. How would you try to get out of the room? Where are the doors? Windows? Are there people around who might be able to help you? Is there an emergency phone nearby?
- If you and/or the other person have been drinking, you can say that you would rather wait until you both have your full judgment before doing anything you may regret later.

Primary an Ongoing Prevention and Awareness Programs

The University engages in comprehensive, intentional, and integrated programming, initiatives, strategies, and campaigns intended to end dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault and stalking that:

- Are culturally relevant, inclusive of diverse communities and identities, sustainable, responsive to community needs, and informed by research, or assessed for value, effectiveness, or outcome; and
- Consider environmental risk and protective factors as they occur on the individual, relationship, institutional, community and societal levels.

Educational programming consists of primary prevention and awareness programs for all incoming students and new employees and ongoing awareness and prevention campaigns for students and employees that:

- Provides a statement that the university prohibits the crimes of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking.
- Defines using definitions provided by both the Department of Education as well as state law what behavior constitutes domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault (rape, fondling, incest, and statutory rape) and stalking.
- Defines what behavior and actions constitute consent to sexual activity in the State of Texas and the Student Code of Conduct.
- Provides a description of safe and positive options for bystander intervention. Bystander intervention means safe and positive options that may be conducted by an individual or individuals to prevent harm or intervene when there is a risk of dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, or stalking. Bystander intervention includes recognizing situations of potential harm, understanding institutional structures and cultural conditions that facilitate violence, overcoming barriers to intervening, identify safe and effective intervention options, and taking action to intervene.
- Information on risk reduction. Risk reduction means options designed to decrease perpetration and bystander inaction, and to increase empowerment for victims to promote safety and to help individuals and communities address conditions that facilitate violence.

- Provides information regarding:
 - a. procedures victims should follow if a crime of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking occurs.
 - b. how the institution will protect the confidentiality of victims and other necessary parties.
 - c. existing counseling, health, mental health, victim advocacy, legal assistance, visa and immigration assistance, student financial aid, and other services available for victims, both within the university and the community.
 - d. options for, available assistance in, and how to request changes to academic, living, transportation, and working situations or protective measures.
 - e. procedures for institutional disciplinary action in cases of alleged dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, or stalking.

The University has developed an annual educational campaign consisting of face-to-face presentations that include distribution of materials by participating in new student and new employee orientations as well as on going awareness programs for current students and employees which consist of face-to-face presentations, distribution of educational materials and educational campaign ads in campus newspapers and monitors.

Procedures Victims Should Follow if a Crime of Domestic Violence, Dating Violence, Sexual Assault or Stalking Occurs

After an incident of sexual assault, domestic violence, or dating violence the victim should consider seeking medical attention as soon as possible at Driscoll Children's Hospital, 3533 Alameda, Corpus Christi, TX 78411 (if under the age of 21) or Doctor's Regional Hospital, 3315 Alameda, Corpus Christi, TX 78411. In Texas, evidence can be collected even if the victim chooses not to make a report to law enforcement. It is important that a victim of sexual assault not bathe, douche, smoke, eat, brush teeth, urinate, change clothing, or clean the bed/linen/area where they were sexually assaulted so that evidence may be preserved that may assist in proving that the alleged criminal offense occurred or may be helpful in obtaining a protective order. In circumstances of sexual assault, if victims do not opt for forensic evidence collection, health care providers can still treat injuries and take steps to address concerns of pregnancy and/or sexually transmitted diseases. Victims of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence and stalking are encouraged to also preserve evidence by saving text messages, instant messages, social networking pages, other communications, and keeping pictures, logs, or other copies of documents, if they have any, that would be useful to university hearing boards/investigators or police.

Involvement of Law Enforcement and Campus Authorities

Although the university strongly encourages all members of its community to report violations of this policy to law enforcement, it is the victim's choice whether to make such a report and victims have the right to decline involvement with the police. The University will assist any victim with notifying law enforcement if they so desire. Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi Police Department can be reached directly by calling (361) 825-4242, in person at 6300 Ocean Drive (located on Oso Lane), Corpus Christi, TX. Additional information about the University Police Department is available online at: <http://police.tamucc.edu>.

Adjudication of Violations

The University disciplinary process is consistent with the institution's policy and will include a prompt, fair, and impartial investigation, and resolution process transparent to the accuser and the accused. The resolution of complaints of sexual misconduct are completed within 60 days of the report, however the proceedings timeframe allows for extensions for worthy cause with notice to the accuser and the accused of the delay and the reason for the delay. Investigators and hearing board members are trained annually on the issues related to sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence and stalking and taught how to conduct and investigate a hearing process that protects the safety of the victim and promotes accountability. Furthermore, each policy provides that:

1. The accuser and the accused will have timely notice for meetings at which the accuser or accused, or both, may be present.
2. The institution will allow for timely access to the accuser, the accused and appropriate officials to any information that will be used after the fact-finding investigation but during formal and informal disciplinary meetings and hearings.
3. The institutional disciplinary procedures will not be conducted by officials who have a conflict of interest or bias for or against the accuser or accused.
4. The institution provides the accuser and accused the same opportunities to have others present during an institutional disciplinary proceeding. The accuser and the accused each can be advised by a personal advisor at any meeting or proceeding. The advisor may only consult and advise his or her advisee, but not speak for the advisee at any meeting or hearing.
5. The accuser and the accused will be notified simultaneously in writing of the result of any disciplinary proceeding, as well as any changes to those result or disciplinary actions prior to the time that such results become final; and
6. Where an appeal is permitted under the applicable policy, the accuser and the accused will be notified simultaneously in writing, of the procedures for the accused and the victim to appeal the result of the institutional disciplinary proceeding. When an appeal is filed, the accuser and the accused will be notified simultaneously in writing of any change to the result prior to the time that it becomes final as well as of the result once the appeal is resolved.

Process (Students)

Timeline:

Once the University receives notice of an allegation of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault or stalking, every attempt will be made to bring resolution to the incident within 30 to 60 calendar days. Delays to this timeline may result due to criminal investigations, holiday breaks, final examinations and other circumstances as deemed appropriate. Interim actions to remedy the situation may occur during the investigatory process.

Investigation:

Once a complaint is received, the Title IX Coordinator will initiate a prompt, thorough and impartial investigation if there is reasonable cause to believe that a violation has occurred. The Title IX Coordinator may work in conjunction with the Office of Student Engagement and Success and the University Police Department throughout the process. The investigation may include but is not limited to interviewing multiple parties, compiling, and verifying statements, obtaining, and gathering documentation including the outcomes of medical evidence testing, speaking with expert witnesses, research and writing an executive summary of facts regarding the alleged incident. Pending the outcome of that investigation charges may be issued to the accused(s). The investigation may not substantiate charges under the sexual misconduct policy, however, may indicate other violations of the Student Code of Conduct, which may be referred to the Office of Student Conduct and Advocacy to proceed with the standard process. If the investigation is unsubstantiated and there is no other evidence of other violations is presented, no hearing will occur, and the case will be closed.

Pre-Conference Meeting:

Once a charge has been issued, the accused will be given notice to attend a pre-conference meeting. During this meeting the alleged charges, the conduct process and the accused rights will be discussed. A pre-conference meeting will also occur with the alleged victim to discuss the process and their rights.

Hearing:

A hearing date may then be set and all individuals who are to be in attendance will be notified of the day, time, and location. This notice will include the names of any witnesses that will be requested to attend to provide information.

A notice will be sent via Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi email to the hearing board members, accused and alleged victim (s) providing them with the information that will be presented at the hearing. Additional relevant information, not known and/or not available at the time the hearing package was prepared, may be presented at the hearing. If this added information is made available, it should be given to the Title IX Coordinator. This added information may then be provided to the investigator(s) for further review.

Those present may consist of trained board members, the investigator, a representative from the Office of Student Conduct and Advocacy, the alleged victim (s), the accused, and any applicable witness, which may include expert witnesses. Additionally, the alleged victim(s) and the accused may each bring one advisor each. Hearings are typically conducted in a closed session to ensure as much privacy as possible.

During the hearing, the investigator, or designee, will provide an oral summary of the final investigation report. The investigator, or designee, will also respond to questions from the panel, the accused, and the alleged victim. The board will review the information provided. The accused and the alleged victim can ask questions during the hearing.

If the board needs to review additional information an executive session may be called by the chair to allow time for additional witnesses to be called before the panel or to address procedural questions. In rare circumstances, a hearing may be tabled and scheduled to reconvene at another time.

Deliberation:

In a closed-door session, the hearing body will deliberate and based on information presented, using a standard of preponderance of information, a determination regarding each individual alleged violation will be made along with any applicable sanctions and/or remedies.

Outcome & Notification:

Notification of the outcome, any applicable sanctions and/or remedies of the hearing will be provided in writing via Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi email to both the accused and the alleged victim(s)

Appeals:

A request for appeal must be submitted within five business days of the dated, written notification of the decision rendered during the student conduct proceeding. Any decision that does not receive a request for appeal within the designated timeline will be considered final and binding upon all involved.

Sanctions:

In all cases, investigations that result in a finding of a more likely than not that a violation of the policy occurred will lead to the initiation of disciplinary procedures against the accused individual. For students, these sanctions may include one or more of the following sanctions depending on the severity of the offense and whether the alleged offender has a history of misconduct.

- A. Education: Involvement in educational activities designed to increase self-awareness such as self-directed research, on-line courses, referrals to campus resources and any other assignments deemed appropriate.
- B. Disciplinary Warning: A letter of reprimand stating the student violated the Student Code of Conduct and indicating that any future violation of the Student Code of Conduct will subject the student to further judicial proceedings, in which the original violation will be considered when determining the sanctions to be imposed.

- C. Community Service: Service determined by the Student Conduct Officer and given to a student to fulfill the requirements of an available work assignment. Failure to complete the work assignment satisfactorily will result in a hold upon the student's academic records.
- D. Restitution: Payment for damage to the University's property. The dollar amount is determined by the cost of materials to repair the item damaged, including any labor needed to replace or restore the item. The student will be responsible for payments assessed by the Hearing Body, or a hold will be placed on the student's record.
- E. Restricted Access: Restricting or banning from entering certain designated areas and use of specific equipment as defined by a Student Conduct Officer for a specified period. Restricting or banning may include, but is not limited to, access to a university facility and services, access to on campus housing, participation in university-sponsored activities, or contact with a specified University community member(s).
- F. Disciplinary Probation: A written reprimand that defines a student's status for a specific period. If a student violates any other rules and regulations within the authority of the judicial system while under University Disciplinary Probation, that student will be subject to further disciplinary proceedings. A sounder is located inside each apartment with 110-volt smoke detectors located in and outside each bedroom which only sound in that apartment. The fire alarm control panel reports alarms and troubles to the monitoring company and to the main panel located in the front office (buildings 1-3) or community center office (buildings 8-12).

All buildings are fully sprinkled with NFPA 13 wet pipe automatic fire sprinkler systems. As part of these systems a complete riser assembly with the necessary valving, monitoring devices and backflow prevention was installed at each building. The flow and tamper switches are wired into the alarm system to show a water flow situation or someone turning the sprinkler water supply off. The fire protection systems were designed in accordance with the mandatory requirements contained in the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) Code Pamphlet.

Every kitchen is equipped with a fire extinguisher and extinguishers are available in public areas as appropriate. These fire extinguishers are inspected annually and replaced as required. The front doors of each unit are fire rated at 20 minutes. Facilities are inspected bi-annually by the State Fire Marshal's Office.
